Upon meeting Bhai Sahib, Jaswinder Singh was in awe of such a pure soul who lived his entire life completely for the service of others and slowly the Almighty's plan became apparent.

Mr. Khalsa decided to live the rest of his life serving the cause of philanthropy and returned to India to assemble like minded benevolent associates to bring about a change in society at large. "AN INVESTMENT IN KNOWLEDGE, PAYS THE BEST INTEREST."

-Sardar Jaswinder Singh Khalsa

Educate Punjab Project (EPP) was initiated to promote higher education amongst the underprivileged people of Punjab with the belief that education is the vehicle to help poor families out of poverty. Whilst visiting various schools and colleges, EPP volunteers encountered numerous students who had huge potential but were being held back by not being able to afford an education. The dropout rate of post primary education in Punjab is extremely high, a large proportion of this is down to one thing only... Poverty.

FEW WORDS FROM SPONSORS

“

We are very fortunate to be blessed with the seva of sponsoring the education of our future generation with the help of Educate Punjab Project. When we are living a comfortable life, it is sometimes difficult to be grateful for all the blessings that Guru ji has given us. Whenever we receive a message from the children we have sponsored, it reminds us of how fortunate we are and their love and gratitude humbles us. It reminds us of how a small donation can change the future of a child and to never take anything for granted. We hope that EPP continue to create new opportunities for the children in Punjab so that they can support their families one day. Thank you for giving us the opportunity to take part in this seva.

(Namrita Kaur, UK)

“

I think it's an amazing initiative, education is the biggest leveler, it gives all of us an opportunity to succeed and provide for our families. It's amazing idea to help kids achieve their potential. I've grown up in a country where education is free to a point and there is extensive support available, so despite losing my father in my late teens both me and my sister were able to continue our education without putting the additional burden on our mother who had to work in factories to look after us. I am a big believer in education gives everyone an opportunity and to me being able to give these children an opportunity to grow and get better makes me feel that maybe little by little I am able to repay the debt of my 'free' education by giving other kids an opportunity. I sincerely hope this continues and I hope I am able to continue supporting as much as I can going forward.

(Jaspreet Singh Ji, UK)

“

I believe Educate Punjab is doing a great service in helping the underprivileged children gain education. Their noble project deserves a lot of praise for being well run and strictly controlled by staff and the management. I am also honestly informed about the studies of the pupils I sponsor. Educate Punjab let me know if a sponsored student is lagging behind for any reason and consult with me about their future funding. I have no hesitation in continuing to give my Dasvand to them for this much needed opportunity for such children. This is a very deserving cause, as in present day, education is more important than ever before. Please keep up the great work you are doing. May Waheguru's blessings be with you always.

(Sukhwinder Singh Ji, UK)

“

EPP is doing an amazing job in uplifting young kids and providing education to those who can't afford. I have been EPP sponsor for a few years now and I genuinely believe that they are doing a great Seva from the panth and connecting our youth to Gurbani. I personally went to the kids house that I sponsor when I went to India and it was such a great experience. There is 100% transparency and I can say that because I have been to India and saw the ground work they have been doing for years. I request everyone to support this organization and uplift our youth together towards a better future.

(Jaskaran Singh Ji, Canada)
